Re: OA-202C Infrared Sensor.

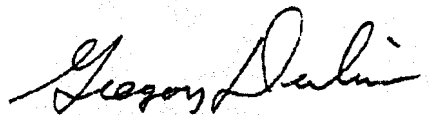

We have been using the OPTEX OA-202C active infrared sensor for over ten years now. It is our primary activation unit for both out sliding and swinging door lines,

The reliability and quality of this sensor is simply phenomenal, Our returns to OPTEX for warranty evaluation during the past ten years have been almost nil,

We are pleased to tell you that Sierra's product liability problems are minimal and that we believe the OA202- C has been a significant contributor to that safety record.

The OA202-C is a winner!

Sincerely,

Gregory Devlin
